

Future Engineers in the Making!

One of our Y5 classes had an absolute blast visiting the Teesside Gas Processing Plant (TGPP) after successfully completing the Children Challenging Industry programme with York University! The children started their day by meeting the Plant Manager, who introduced them to the amazing team onsite. From there, it was a fully hands-on, action-packed morning of engineering. To top off an already incredible day, the children absolutely loved the special gifts given to them by the TGPP team before heading home! A huge thank you to everyone at TGPP for welcoming us so warmly, treating the children, and truly inspiring the next generation of scientists and engineers!

Cross Country Town Final

Well-done to our team of children who made it through to the Tees Valley final. In the Tees Valley there are approximately 7,000 children in each year group so you have all done amazingly well.

A Huge Thank You to the Royal Navy!

Year 5 had an absolutely incredible day when the Royal Navy Youth Engagement Team came to visit! The children loved learning all about the amazing and diverse career paths available, discovering how much goes into keeping us safe at sea, on land, and in the air. But the excitement didn't stop there! The classroom transformed into a workshop as our pupils put their engineering skills to the test, creating their very own paper emergency flares. The real highlight was taking their creations out onto the playground to launch them using hydraulics! We had flares flying high and far across the school grounds.

Celebrating our Readers of the Week

We are so proud to announce our incredible Readers of the Week! These amazing readers have spent the last week exploring new worlds, discovering big ideas, and diving headfirst into their favourite books. Thank you for inspiring all of us to turn the page and keep exploring. Keep up the spectacular work, and happy reading!
